

Global Infectious Diseases: New Challenges and Solutions.

The American Journal of Law & Medicine 2015 Symposium

Saturday, January 30, 2016

Boston University School of Law

Room 102

8:15 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Infectious diseases were once relegated to the dustbin of history, but today emerging and reemerging infectious diseases threaten health and health care systems in every country. This symposium will explore the interdisciplinary considerations and obstacles raised by these and similar developments. Panels will discuss ways to encourage development of infectious disease treatments, lessons learned from the recent H1N1 and Ebola outbreaks, the legal and moral implications of mandatory vaccination, infectious disease control within the US health care system, and the tension between individual freedom and state control during an outbreak.

 All—including faculty, students, and the general public—are welcome to attend. For academic questions, contact the AJLM Symposium editors at ajlmsymposium@gmail.com. To register, visit the website below.*

➔ Conference Chair:

- KEVIN OUTTERSON
Boston University School of Law

➔ Speakers:

- GEORGE ANNAS
Boston University School of Public Health and School of Law
- JOHN BILLINGTON
Infectious Diseases Society of America
- HELEN BOUCHER
Tufts Medical Center
- FRANCESCO CIABUSCHI
Uppsala University
- NIR EYAL
Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health
- STEVEN HOFFMAN
University of Ottawa: Global Strategy Lab
- THOMAS HWANG
Bain Capital Ventures
with: AARON KESSELHEIM
Harvard Medical School and Brigham and Women's Hospital
- ANN MARIE MARCIARILLE
University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Law
- WENDY MARINER
Boston University School of Public Health and School of Law
- RYAN MORHARD
US Department of Health and Human Services
- ANDREW ROBERTSON
Merck & Co.
- CHRISTOPHER ROBERTSON
University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law
- MICHAEL SINHA
Boston Medical Center
with: WENDY PARMET
Northeastern University School of Law
- MELISSA STUNDICK
Spero Therapeutics
- MARK TURNER
Birmingham City University
- MICHAEL ULRICH
Yale Law School