

Boston University Department of Religion Presents:
Tuesday, February 9, 5pm • Hillel House, 4th Floor • 213 Bay State Road

14th Annual Lecture

How Odd was God/
To Choose the Jews?:
*The History of Early Christian "Flesh"

Join us at 5pm on February 9th for a lecture
by Boston University's Aurelio Professor of the Appreciation of Scripture,
Paula Fredriksen,
and Scripps College
Professor Andrew Jacobs
as they discuss ancient Christianity's ambivalence toward the flesh and toward the Jews, and how Augustine challenged
those views.

Reception to follow lecture.

Co-Sponsored by the Program for Scripture & the Arts

Guido Reni, Circumcision of Christ, Detail

Paula Fredriksen
Boston University

Free and Open to the Public

Andrew Jacobs
Scripps College

Handicapped accessible. • For more information, contact Wendy Czik at 617.353.2635.