

The Latin American Studies Program presents:

Peruvian Poetry and Exile

A Reading & Conversation with Raúl Bueno,
José Antonio Mazzotti and Pedro Ángel Palou

José Antonio Mazzotti is Professor of Latin American Literature at Tufts University and Editor-in-Chief of the “Revista de Crítica Literaria Latinoamericana.” He has been a recipient of “International Quarterly’s” Crossing Boundaries Award in Poetry and Translation.

Raúl Bueno is Professor of Spanish and Portuguese and Chair of the Department of Spanish of Portuguese at Dartmouth College. Raúl Bueno is also author of three books of poetry: Viaje de Argos y Otros Poemas (1964), De la Voz y el Estío (1966) and Lengua de Vigía & Memorando Europeo (1986).

Pedro Ángel Palou is Professor of Latin American Literature and Studies and Chair of the Romance Languages Department at Tufts University. In addition to his many scholarly books and novels, he has published the book of poems Catálogo de las aves in 2010. He will act as discussant and moderator.

Friday, April 15 | 5–6:30 PM

Pardee School of Global Studies, 121 Bay State Road, 1st Floor

Reception to follow

Boston University Frederick S. Pardee School of Global Studies
Latin American Studies Program