

FLM: Integrating Ideas from They Say/I Say into your Writing

In-Class Activity Online Implementation

Your instructor will put you in a break-out room with a few other students. In your group, apply the appropriate type of analysis to one of the readings at the end of They Say/I Say, creating one written response per team. It is recommended that you create a shared Google doc file, in which your group members can collaboratively write their response. Before the break-out rooms are closed, your group should also decide who will show and explain the response to the rest of the class.

Once the break-out rooms are closed, one student from each group will share their screen with the whole class. This person will show the class the group's written response and briefly explain how the group has applied the They Say/I Say concepts and templates to their analysis.
